

Canadian gets silver at worlds

Wrestler falls to Ukrainian foe in 67-kilogram final

BUDAPEST, Hungary
Canadian wrestler Stacy Anaka won a silver medal in the 67-kilogram weight class Friday at the FILA world championships.

It was Canada's second medal at the competition. Jessica MacDonald of Windsor, Ont., won a bronze medal Wednesday.

Anaka, a 26-year-old from Coquitlam, B.C., was added to the roster just six weeks ago when Dorothy Yeats went down to injury. Anaka reached the final with an 8-6 win over China's Zhangting Zhou of China before falling to Ukraine's Alina Stadnik-Makhynia via pin-fall.

"It ended a little too quickly to my liking, but overall I am very pleased with being second in the world," Anaka said. "It was especially awesome to walk behind the Canadian flag entering the mat."

The event continues over the weekend with the Greco-Roman tournaments. Canada does not have any wrestlers entered in those competitions.

Also Friday, Canadian wrestler Carol Huynh was inducted into the FILA Hall of Fame.

Huynh, from Hazelton, B.C., won Olympic gold in Beijing in 2008 and added bronze at the 2012 Games in London. She also won four world championship medals over her career.

Stenson's lead expands

Swede holds a four-shot edge over Scott for top spot at the Tour Championship

ATLANTA

Henrik Stenson broke another club Friday — this time by accident.

And it didn't matter.

Playing with only 13 clubs in the bag after his 4-wood broke on the practice range, Stenson made three birdies on the opening four holes at East Lake to quickly seize control and shot 4-under 66 to build a four-shot lead over Adam Scott in the Tour Championship.

For all his birdies, the best move he made all week was deciding to put the 4-wood in his locker instead of carrying it with him.

Stenson heard a funny sound after hitting five shots on the range, showed it to Steve Stricker and realized the face caved in. A television viewer who heard about the incident called the PGA Tour to see if the Swede had kept it in his bag, and officials checked with Stenson after his round.

If he had left it in the bag without using it, Stenson would have been assessed a four-shot penalty — the margin of his lead. If he had used the club, he would have been disqualified. Stenson had no intention of using it, though sending it to his locker saved him.

He wasn't sure it was a violation to carry a non-conforming club, nor did he know the penalties.

"You asked me how well I knew the rules the other day. I gave myself 7 out of 10, didn't I?" he said. "I guess this was in the other 30 per cent then. ... Good thing that we put it in the locker before we teed off."

Henrik Stenson, of Sweden, hits from the second tee during the second round of play in the Tour Championship golf tournament at East Lake Golf Club in Atlanta, Friday.

The way he's going, a bizarre incident like that might be the only thing that can stop him.

Stenson was at 10-under 130 going into the third round and might be playing a course far less firm. The forecast is for rain most of day, and the starting times have been moved up to Saturday morning with hopes of getting it in.

Tiger Woods is not in position to halt the hottest player in golf. Woods was headed toward the best round of the day, 5-under through 13 holes, when he made double bogey on the 14th, had a triple bogey on the 17th and wound up with a 71. He was 14 shots behind. It was the first time since the 2011 PGA Championship that Woods began a tournament with back-to-back rounds over par.

"I put everything I had into that start and didn't have much at the end," Woods said. "Just ran out of gas."

Scott sputtered at the start. He was one shot behind Stenson and quickly fell five shots behind with a couple of poor tee shots. Scott played the last 14 holes without a bogey and wound up with a 69 that put him at 6-under 134.

The Masters champion chose to look at a different number — not four shots back, but only a guy ahead of him.

"Look, Henrik is playing fantastic, so he's got this thing under control at the moment. But not for 36 holes," Scott said. "I think there's too many good players here."

"It's not just myself or someone at 5 under. If it is softer tomorrow because of rain, there could be a lot better scores because it's playing probably as tricky as it can at the moment."

Jordan Spieth, the 20-year-old rookie, had a 67 and was five shots behind. U.S. Open champion Justin Rose, Dustin Johnson and Billy Horschel were another shot back.

FIRE HYDRANT & WATER MAIN FLUSHING

The Environmental Utilities Department will test and flush fire hydrants plus water mains until October 2013. This is an annual maintenance activity that maintains water quality and system infrastructure. Residents may notice some discoloring of water, which is not harmful and will disappear when flushing is complete. Fluctuating pressure may also be noticed. Should discoloration persist beyond three hours, you may wish to flush the water from your home for a few minutes by watering your lawn or running your tap. Please note that the flushing in your home will not correct private plumbing/corrosion problems. Thank you for your understanding.
